IGNATIAN SPIRITUALITY WORKSHOP:

FOLLOWING CHRIST IN TODAY'S WORLD

Join us for a retreat-workshop focused on the key meditations of the Second Week of the Spiritual Exercises—including the Kingdom Meditation, the Two Standards, the Three Classes, and the Three Degrees of Humility.

With insights from Susan Stabile and Fr. Jack Treloar, we'll explore how these meditations shape our ministry as directors and how to integrate their dynamics into ongoing spiritual direction.

The schedule includes personal prayer, small group reflection, Eucharist, and time for meaningful conversation in a peaceful retreat setting.

Open to spiritual directors and retreat directors-lay, religious, clergy-who desire to deepen understanding and develop practices following the Ignatian model of spiritual direction.

Susan Stabile is an experienced spiritual director and retreat leader grounded in the Ignatian tradition. She offers retreats and formation programs across the country and trains spiritual directors to offer the Spiritual Exercises of St. Ignatius.

With decades of experience in retreat ministry and spiritual direction, Fr. Jack brings both pastoral wisdom and academic depth to his work. He has served as a professor, dean, and provincial assistant in Jesuit institutions across the country. Fr. Jack has been at JRH since 2012.

“Let us be signposts for others, showing the way to God.”
